

assume some other code
assembles the objects appropriately, so that a building contains floors and a floor contains areas